OFFICIALS WILL FIGHT REMOVAL

Governor Must File Charges And Prove Incompetency, Say Some Board Members Coming Under Executive's Dismissal.

GOVERNOR ACCUSED OF VIOLATING SPIRIT OF CIVIL SERVICE LAW

Willis Then Accuses Civil Service Commissioner Bryson of Making False Charges—Harmon Claims Willis Quoted Him "As Devil Quoted Scriptures"—Hogan Retained by Discharged Officials

Columbus, April 10.—Governor Willis will have to prefer charges of incompetency or malfeasance in office against many of the fourteen members of state commissions, whose resignation he requested last night, in order to effect their dismissal. This became evident today, when several announced openly they would refuse to resign and would contest the governor's right to remove them. Former Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan was retained as counsel and prepared at once to defend the officials against removal.

Reports reached the governor's office that ten Democrats, among the 14 who were asked to quit, had arranged to hold a conference next week and decide on a united line of action. This was not confirmed, however, by any official. Most of those affected by Governor Willis' action, said today they had made no decision, and had not discussed the question with others in the same situation.

Governor Willis refused to make further statement today, supplementary to his letter sent out to the officials last evening. It was said to the governor's office a "reasonable time" for the officials to offer their resignations would be "at least a week, and possibly more."

Governor Willis was accused of violating the spirit of the civil service law, by requiring the appointment of Republicans wherever available and ordering that provisional appointments be made in too many cases, by Charles H. Bryson, civil service commissioner, in a letter sent to the Governor April 7. It was made public today by Commissioner Bryson, as a means of combatting the Governor's request for his resignation.

"It appears to me that your whole attitude is in violation of the spirit and intent of the civil service law," Commissioner Bryson.

Shortly after Commissioner Bryson's letter was given out, Governor Willis made public a reply addressed to Mr. Bryson. The governor denied he had not in any way sought him directly or indirectly, to influence the action of the Civil Service Commission.

In regard to Mr. Bryson's charge as to the spirit of the Civil Service law has been violated, the governor said: "I cannot believe that you will make such ridiculous false charges seem to be implied in your letter."

Columbus, April 10.—The only officials who announced definitely today that they would refuse the governor's request for the resignation of Chas. H. Bryson, of Athens, a civil service commissioner, Progressive and Thomas J. Duffy, of Eastwood industrial commissioner.

By Associated Press.

Liverpool, April 10.—After living on a water logged schooner five days, on rations of from three to six crackers a day apiece, the captain and crew of five were rescued at sea and brought into this port today, aboard the schooner Oriole. The schooner was wrecked April 2.

HUERTA DUE IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

New York, April 10.—There was activity in local Mexican colony today, in anticipation of the arrival of General Victorino Huerta, deposed president of Mexico. He sailed from Spain on a steamer due here this afternoon or tonight.

Mexicans here believe that a number of General Huerta's most intimate friends would greet him and confer concerning Mexican affairs.

In a wireless dispatch, replying to inquiry, General Huerta sent word that he was on a pleasure trip only.

CASSIDY IS STILL HIDING

By Associated Press.

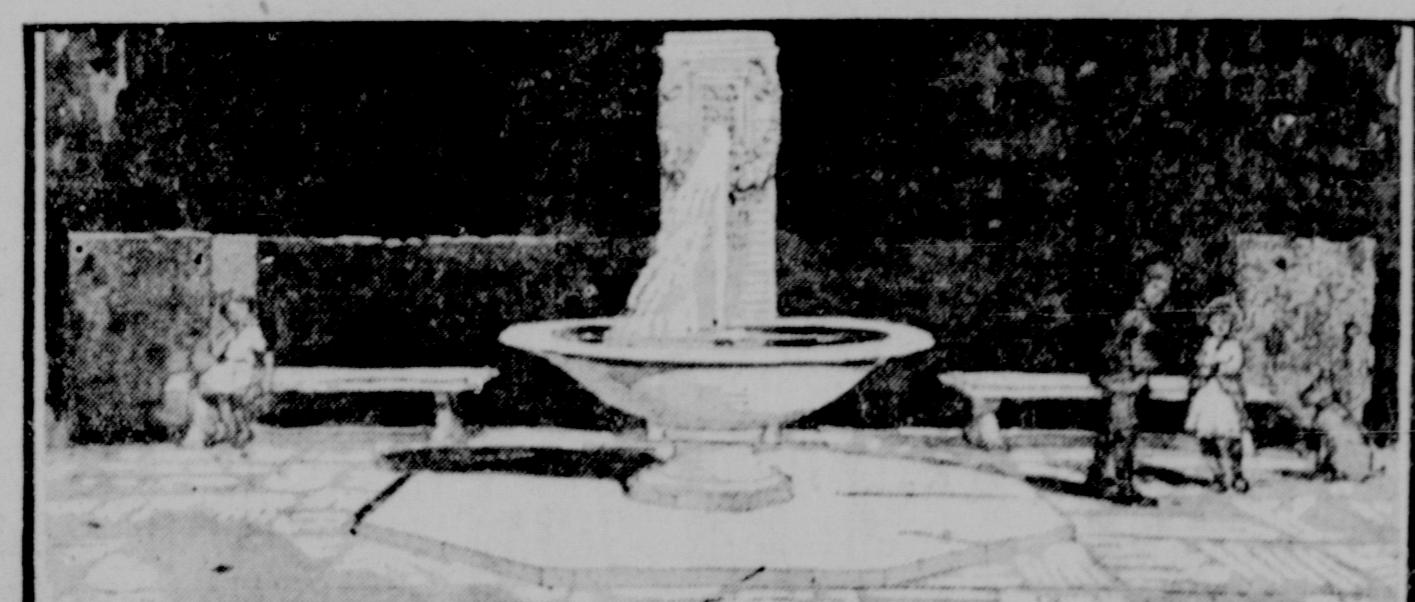

Cleveland, April 10.—The whereabouts of James H. Cassidy, former congressman, missing since Monday, and who was removed as receiver of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Coal Company by Federal Judge Clarke, when he failed to report to the court as instructed, continued to be a mystery today. The apparent shortage in his accounts, according to the newly appointed receiver, is between $16,000 and $20,000.

Meantime, friends of Cassidy assert their belief that he will be able to give a satisfactory explanation of General Huerta, in coming here, was to initiate a hostile movement along the frontier, in violation of the neutrality law.

WHATS THIS!

Washington, April 10.—The Villa-Zapata agency here today gave out a statement saying that the purpose of General Huerta, in coming here, was to initiate a hostile movement along the frontier, in violation of the neutrality law.

AUSTRIA FORCED TO ABANDON SERBIAN CAMPAIGN AND WATCH ITALY'S MOVES

Peace Rumors Continue, Coming From Vienna—Clamor for War Reaches Critical Stage in Italy—26,000 Austrians Fall in One Engagement.

By Associated Press.

London, April 10.—The French, with the capture of Les Eparges, have obtained one of the main objectives of their advance to the southeastward from Verdun. The position at Les Eparges dominates the plains of the Woëvre, and its occupation by the French is announced officially.

Progress from Verdun means heavier pressure on the northern flank of the Germans holding St. Mihiel, while the southern flank is threatened by the French advance between Pont A Mousson and the Meuse.

In the southern part of this field of operations the Germans are delivering almost continuous counter attacks. They have made fifteen assaults on one point. It is evident that the French are not only attempting to capture St. Mihiel, which always has been a danger point since its wedge was driven into the line of the allies, but are at the same time seeking to aid Russia by preventing the withdrawal of German corps for the relief of the hard pressed Austrian and German forces in the Carpathians.

London, April 10.—Austria is reported to have abandoned her campaign against Serbia, bringing to a close the offensive operations which were the immediate cause of the general European conflict. Dispatches from Switzerland say that Austria has given up the plan for a new attack on Serbia, for the sake of sending additional troops to the Italian frontier.

It is also reported, from the same source, that the decision has been reached at Vienna to sound Russia as to peace terms. The official organ of the Vatican, however, denies the report that Austria has requested the assistance of the Pope in such negotiations.

Russia is said to have made important captures of guns and war munitions in the Carpathians. What is represented as information from the Austrian General Staff, is that in the battle along the Dukla-Eperies front the Austrians lost 26,000 men.

WILD EXCITEMENT ATTENDS OPENING OF STOCK EXCHANGE

By Associated Press.

New York, April 10.—Scenes of wild excitement attended the renewal of operations on the stock exchange today. The trading floor was crowded with members, and the visitors gallery was lined with spectators, many of them women, in gay attire.

Over night buying orders and a further stampede of the short interest, lifted prices throughout the list, gains extending from one to three points in speculative favorites under yesterday's close.

Steel was conspicuous in this connection, declining to 55 1/2. Its contribution to the business of the first hour was 117,000 shares.

Prices recovered from lowest levels before the close, but failed to repeat their best quotations of the first hour. Sales for the two hours aggregate 800,000 shares, the largest total for a Saturday in 6 years.

RESIGNATIONS ARE DEMANDED BY GOVERNOR

Columbus, April 10.—Governor Willis sent letters to members of the five leading state commissions, asking for their resignations. All the members of the utilities, industrial, agricultural, civil service and licensing boards are called on without warning to step out.

In asking for these wholesale resignations, Governor Willis points to a similar step taken by former Governor Harmon. He quotes at length Harmon's special message to the legislature immediately after his inauguration in January, 1909, setting forth his reasons for withdrawing the recess appointments, which had been sent to the upper house for confirmation by his predecessor, Governor Harris.

All of the officials whose resignations are asked were appointed by former Governor Cox, and the commissions on which they are serving were created by the Cox administration. Most of the officials have announced on various occasions that their resignations would be forthcoming at any time the governor wished them.

The only big department not now in control of Willis appointees which escaped his wholesale request is the board of administration, which exercises control over institutions. The reason for its not being included, as explained by the governor's secretary, was that he did not want the charge to be made that he was dragging the state institutions into politics. All members of this board are Cox appointees except D. S. Creamer, Democrat, who was appointed by Willis.

Willis appointees now control the state tax commission. The one remaining Cox appointee, A. B. Peckinpaugh, was not asked to relinquish his job. One other commission has a Willis appointee. He is Utilities Commissioner Beecher W. Walter-mire.

The resignations of the following have been requested: Industrial Commission—Wallace D. Yapple, Thomas J. Duffy, M. B. Hammond. Utilities Commission—Oliver H. Hughes, Charles C. Marshall. Agricultural Commission—A. P. Sandles, S. E. Strode, C. G. Williams. Civil Service Commission—S. A. Hoskins, Charles Bryson, Charles Brown. Liquor Licensing Board—Byron M. C. Denning, J. H. Secret, Charles L. Allen.

That the governor may reappoint some whose resignations he has asked for is intimated.

What Willis Says.

In his letter Governor Willis said to all those asked to resign:

"On Jan. 12, 1909, Governor Judson Harmon sent to the senate of Ohio a special message, two paragraphs of which are as follows:

"My election as governor plainly meant that the people want a change of administration. This can not be accomplished by changing the chief executive only, but he must be left free with respect to the other officials whose selection is left by him. Otherwise he may preside over the administration, but he can not conduct it so as to be responsible for it, as he ought and was meant to be."

The long established order of things in Ohio and elsewhere makes appointments to executive positions in each administration terminate practically with it, as far as possible, so that the new governor in organizing the executive force of the state can make such changes as he thinks advisable, as terms expire, make his own reappointment of officials whose retention the good of the service requires, and thus secure that harmony of purpose and action which are the first requisite for executive efficiency.

"The concluding sentence of this important message by Governor Harmon says:

"I ask, for the sake of good government whose credit and benefits your honorable body will share with me, that you leave me free to choose my own associates in the administration and my successors free to choose theirs."

"It would be difficult to improve upon this clear, clean-cut declaration, and I, therefore, very respectfully request its earnest consideration by you."

"So far as I know, my relations with the appointees of my predecessor have been personally pleasant. As governor I have not sought to embarrass any of these appointees in the discharge of their duties. Appointments have been made gradually and carefully, so as not to impede the prompt and proper transaction of the public business."

"However, this administration is now confronted by a situation in which the party in power has only minority representation in a number of important boards and commissions, while in others is without any representation whatever."

"This is an anomalous condition. The people have spoken in decisive terms; their will must be carried into effect. The party in power is charged with responsibility; it is entitled to majority representation on the boards and commissions which are to crystallize the people's will in administration. This is said entirely without personal feeling or partisan rancor; no disparagement is hereby intended of any official. It is of the most vital importance that at least a majority of the various agencies of administration should be in accord with the principles and policies of those charged with responsibility."

"It becomes immensely any captain,

if his lieutenants are not in sympathy with his plans of campaign or if their service in command of hostile troops has been of recent date. Such a situation must be embarrassing even to those lieutenants, however able and courageous they may be. It is unfair to ask them to fight beneath a banner representing principles and policies of which they do not approve. The only thing to be done in such circumstance is to ask them graciously to surrender their command to those in sympathy with the general plan of campaign. Their resignations once in the hands of the commanding officer, those whose services are deemed indispensable can be continued on grounds honorable to all concerned."

MONSTER FRUIT CROP EXPECTED

Confirming the statement of a local fruit grower, made a few days ago, that fruit buds were safe and a big fruit crop is expected this season, Mr. B. B. Vandervort, of Forest Home Fruit Farm, and one of the biggest fruit growers in Greene county, says:

"Prospects for a fruit crop are very bright, at this time, I am glad to say. There is an abundance of good healthy buds that are still so dormant that it will take several days of warm weather to bring them to the danger point."

"There was but little seab on the apple leaves last autumn and the leaves remained on the trees until late in the fall which greatly favored the formation of an abundance of good healthy buds. Even the peach is very promising, and the prospect is for another full crop which is very unusual in this section where we think we are fortunate if we get a crop once in three or five years."

"Small fruits are likewise favored by the regular cool weather of the past winter and are in grand shape to produce a full crop. Upon the whole fruit lovers still have reason to look forward to a year of plenty in all kinds of fruit."

HAWK BOUNTY LAW EFFECTIVE IN JUNE

A communication from Gen. John C. Speaks, Chief Game Warden of the state, relative to the hawk bounty law enacted by the legislature and signed by the governor on March 9, states that the law becomes effective 90 days from the time signed by the governor, and that the Fish and Game Department is now preparing colored photographs of the several species of hawks upon which a price exists and these photographs will be mailed to the township clerks throughout the state in order that the hawks killed may be identified as to species.

It is presumed that hawks killed previous to the date upon which the law becomes effective, will not be regarded as having a price upon their heads.

House-cleaning Times

The return of the house cleaning days remind us that the old fashioned carpet beater is not so much in evidence as he was once upon a time not so long since.

The hard wood floors and small rugs, the vacuum cleaners and other changes in styles, customs and inventions, have deprived a great many expert club and broom wielders of good paying jobs and relieved many good husbands and fathers of burdensome tasks.

The dull pounding of the carpet in the neighbor's back yard, a sound, like which there is no other in all the great universe of sound, was until a year or two ago the unfailing sign that spring had come. Now we must listen for other sounds denoting the coming of spring and look elsewhere for the evidence that it really has come.

The men with mouths of sufficient size to hold a box of carpet tacks without interfering seriously with their ability to converse freely and expectorate dexterously has marched on into other fields of labor.

The maid with her bucket and mop in hand, with the towl artistically bound about her head, the ends trailing back over the shoulders, is still with us as is also the smell of strong soap and fresh paint. There is, too, a little less of the confusion and general upheaval in evidence, but still enough to bring to the home folks a full realization of the fact that its house cleaning time and spring is here. Sometimes mother starts in a little too early on the house cleaning campaign, but not often. In her reckoning as to whether spring has come or not she does not rely on the coming of the birds, the phaze of the moon, the time of the year, but just on her own instinct with which nature has endowed her.

When mother notifies father and the boys that the house is too dirty for decent folks to live in and that she is going to "pitch in" and get it over with before the weather gets too hot father and the boys know, two things to a certainty—One is that spring is here and the other one is that there is no use trying to stop mother.

The passing of the carpet beater has made the signs of the coming of spring a little more difficult to hear but the real house cleaning sign is still in evidence.

Disloyalty Is Fatal

Loyalty is not only one of the most admirable traits of human character but one which it is absolutely necessary to possess in order that success come to man either individually or collectively.

No business can long succeed with disloyalty existing among the partners. No enterprise can succeed with disloyal employees and no employee can do himself justice, no matter how humble or how important his work may be, unless he is loyal to his employers and loyal to his superiors.

Disloyalty is the most despicable of human imperfections and its possession is the greatest handicap which can be placed on an individual. It is the offspring of jealousy and envy.

There are times, of course, when men who regard their honor highly cannot be in sympathy with their superiors. An open and frank expression of disapproval or disagreement under such circumstances does not constitute disloyalty and under such circumstances a dissolution of the confidential relations should follow immediately.

To pretend to be in accord with conduct that is wholly distasteful is deception and disloyalty and soon brings to the guilty person punishment in financial loss.

The man who accepts a share of the profits, as partner, or accepts remuneration for services rendered as an employee, while doing all in his power to injure his business associate or to handicap his employer is piling up a debt which must be paid and always sooner than he expects.

If employees are not in sympathy with their employer—if they are not loyal—they should refuse to receive money from him. If they object to his methods of business they should get outside and object. To take pay for rendering service to an employer whose plans you are opposing is not only disloyal but downright dishonest.

Loyalty, like honesty, is not only right but it is the best policy.

Disloyalty, like dishonesty, is not only wrong, but it is bad policy, always. There are no exceptions.

Poetry For Today

LIFE.

Life! I know not what thou art,
But know that thou and I must part;
And when, or how, or where we met
I own to me's a secret yet.

But this I know, when thou art
dead,
Where'er they lay these limbs
this head,

No cloud so valueless shall be,
As all that then remains of me.
O whither, whither dost thou fly,
Where bend unseen they trackless
course.
And in this strange divorce,
Ah, tell me where I must seek this compound I?

To the vast ocean of empyreal flame,
From whence thy essence came.
Dost thou thy flight pursue, when
freed
From matter's base encumbering
weed,
Or dust thou, hid from sight,
Wait, like some spellbound
knight,

Thru blank, oblivious years the appointed hour
To break thy trance and reassume
thy power?
Yet canst thou, without thought or feeling be
O say what art thou, when no more thou'ret thee?
Life we've been long together
Thru pleasant and thru cloudy
weather;

Tis hard to part when friends are
dear,—

Perhaps twill cost a sigh, a tear:
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time:
Say not Good Night,—but in
some brighter clime
Bid me Good morning.
—Anna Letitia Barbauld.

It was the rush hour in the cafeteria, one of those quick lunch places where you help yourself and grab a chair and use the arm of the chair as a table. A rushed feeder grabbed a slice of pie and copped out a chair. Then he remembered that he needed coffee and dashed over to the service counter. When he returned with his coffee his chair was occupied by another hurryup diner.

"Excuse me," said the first man, "but that is my chair."

"How do you know it is your chair?" demanded the occupant in a surly tone. "Because I can prove it," stated the first man.

"How can you prove it?" asked the occupant.

"By the seat of your pants," was the reply. "You are sitting on my pie."

BACHERT'S GARAGE

The Paper They Were Written On.

The average author would probably laugh at the statement that at one time in the world's history manuscripts, simply as such, irrespective of the nature of the text, were immensely valuable.

In ancient times manuscripts were important articles from a commercial point of view. They were excessively scarce and were preserved with the utmost care.

Even the users were glad to lend money on them when the owners were obliged to offer them in pawn.

It is related in an ancient tome that a student of Pavia, who was reduced by his debaucheries, raised a new fortune by leaving in pawn a manuscript of a body of law, and a grammarian who was ruined by fire rebuilt his house with two small volumes of Cicero through the ready aid of the pawnbroker.

When you carry cash you have everything to lose and nothing to gain.

When you carry a bank book you have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

$458.00

was lost by Philip A. Clark. He carried it in a wallet. The wallet was kept in his coat pocket. The pocket was fastened by a safety pin. Clark hung the coat on a post for a few minutes. Upon his return he found the money was gone. Had he kept his money in The Fayette County Bank this could not have happened.

When you carry cash you have everything to lose and nothing to gain. When you carry a bank book you have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

DESPONDENT MAN USES RAZOR TO END HIS LIFE

ISAAC VANDINE SEEKS LONELY SPOT IN WOODS NEAR SELDEN AND THERE SLASHES THROAT WITH RAZOR AND REMAINS ARE FOUND LATE THIS MORNING — HAD TRIED SUICIDE IN SIMILAR MANNER 10 YEARS AGO.

Sprawled upon the ground in a pool of blood which had poured from a horrible wound in his throat, searchers late Saturday morning found the remains of Isaac Vandine, single, aged 52 years. The man had used a razor in severing the jugular vein in order that his life blood might escape.

For sometime Vandine had been employed as a farm hand, making his home with Luther Greer, a cousin, who resides on the Chas. Mark farm west of Selden, on the Sabine pike.

The man had not been in good health for quite a while, and had been brooding over his illness, it is claimed. Shortly after midnight Friday night he was heard to leave the Greer home, and Saturday morning a note was found in which the man hinted that he was about to end his life, and asked that he be forgiven for the act which he was about to commit.

With the help of neighbors Mr. Greer instituted a search, finding where Vandine had climbed a fence, crossed a lot, a wheat field, the railroad tracks and into a piece of timber on the Beatty farm some three quarters of a mile from the Greer home.

It was in the woods that the searchers came upon the sickening sight. Indications were that the man had seated himself upon the earth; had drawn a 22-calibre revolver and probably held it in one hand while he slashed his throat with the razor.

Three times the keen blade had been drawn across the right side of the man's throat until the jugular vein was completely severed, and death quickly followed. He lay in a pool of blood, with his work clothes saturated with the red fluid. The bloody razor lay nearby.

After the remains were viewed by Coroner C. A. Teeters they were removed to the McCoy undertaking establishment in this city and prepared for burial. Coroner Teeters will return a verdict of suicide.

It was not the first time Vandine had tried to end his life. Across the windpipe were scars inflicted some ten years ago when he tried to cut his throat with a razor. At that time he was living near Milledgeville and the attempt was a complete failure owing to the manner in which he had tried to reach a vital spot.

The dead man has a few relatives in the county, it is understood, and has spent most of his life upon the farm.

APPROPRIATE ARBOR DAY PROGRAMS IN THE SCHOOLS

Arbor Day was generally observed in the Public Schools of our city Friday.

At the High school building there were brief exercises in the morning and in the afternoon Central, Cherry Hill, Sunny Side and East End entertained hundreds of visitors with appropriate Arbor Day programs.

At Central and East End trees were planted and shrubbery put out at Sunny Side.

Double Program.

The four lower grades of Central, under Misses Anna Bell, Clara Haines, Hattie Pinkerton and Prudence Culhan, gave one of the most attractive entertainments of the year, combining the monthly birthday celebration with Arbor Day features.

Anticipating the busy closing season the birthdays of April, May and June, July and August, were bunched for Friday and an even hundred children, born in these months, were honored guests. All the little "birthdayites" were distinguished by white caps, sporting Easter colors, yellow, violet and green.

The 230 children of the four rooms all wore white and it was the prettiest of sights to see them in greeting to the "birthdayites" and marching down the corridor. The children march beautifully.

The various exercises were admirably given, combined happily the birthday idea with the Arbor Day features.

Of special importance was the christening of the new street now being opened between North street and Millwood.

The President of council and the Mayor of the city had given the privilege of naming this street to Miss Bell and her first grade pupils, consequently, at the close of a pretty exercise, treating of the color, the flowers, the trees of the Easter month, one small child stepped forward to announce this permission given by the city.

A dear little girl with a basket of flowers, performed the christening ceremony, naming the street Arbor

Bridge Avenue, in honor of the day and the long bridge of the street. A small boy offered the hope that the street would always remind Washington of the school children interested in its naming.

The flag salute ended the program.

The children enjoyed a big birthday cake with yellow and white candies and huge sticks of candy as the birthday treat.

The artistic decorations of the corridor and rooms was the delight of the guests. Graceful blue birds were gracefully suspended by invisible threads and butterflies flitted lightly while Easter suggestions and festoons in Easter colors were extremely effective.

April 20 will be a day for the general cleaning up, painting up and brightening up of Washington C. H. — a day when the city throws off its old winter clothes and puts on its bright summer apparel. Everybody get ready for clean-up day.

MAYOR PREPARING CLEAN UP ORDER

Mayor Coffey is preparing a proclamation setting aside Tuesday, April 20 as clean-up day, when everybody will be expected to unite to remove all rubbish and debris from their premises.

April 20 will be a day for the general cleaning up, painting up and brightening up of Washington C. H. — a day when the city throws off its old winter clothes and puts on its bright summer apparel. Everybody get ready for clean-up day.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL

A large and deeply interested audience attended the big meeting of Fayette county teachers, members of boards of education, patrons of schools and pupils, held in the High school auditorium Saturday morning and afternoon.

The large audience was made up of persons from all parts of the country, principally teachers and members of the boards of education, although there was a liberal sprinkling of patrons of the various schools.

A solo by Mrs. Arthur Burgett opened the morning program, followed by invocation by Rev. F. E. Ross, after which the audience was delighted with the work of the Girls' Glee Club of the Washington High school. A song—The Rosary—by Bloomingburg High school pupils was roundly applauded.

"How I Assign a Lesson in History," by Miss Haidee Van Winkle, and "How I Assign a Lesson in Arithmetic," by County Supt. Frank M. Allen, were of deep interest and helpful to the scores of teachers who heard the presentation of the two subjects.

The morning session was featured by Prof. Frank B. Pearson's address on "Behavior." Prof. Pearson went into his subject at some length with the result that teachers who heard him were rewarded with plenty of new ideas and given an inspiration to do more and better work in making their teaching and methods count for more in their pupil's after life.

The afternoon session was well under way at press time.

EXECUTING PLANS TO GET VILLA

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—According to Carranza claims, the defeat of the Villa army at Celaya by General Obregon was a rout. Details were given in a message from General Obregon himself. Villa officials, while in direct touch with their chief at Irapuato, have allowed twenty-four hours to elapse without denying the Carranza claim of victory. Obregon sends brief additional reports declaring that Villa had retreated north of Irapuato with eighteen troop trains, five of which were carrying wounded. If this report of Villa retreat is true, Villa's forces at Guadalajara are evidently completely isolated. Obregon has 500 of Villa's men prisoners and they report their chief demoralized. Villa personally ordered the retreat. Obregon says.

General Obregon says: "The battle lasted for twenty-seven hours, when the Villistas began to retreat. Prisoners claim that General Villa was one of the first to retreat. We pursued the enemy for over thirty miles over a battlefield covered with dead and wounded. We captured a great deal of arms, ammunition, horses, supplies and prisoners. Losses of the enemy in killed, wounded and prisoners is over 3,000. Our losses are 500 in dead and wounded. We suffered greatly in the loss of many prominent officers."

Private messages from Brownsville, Tex., stated that skirmishing was resumed between the Carranza troops in Matamoras and the Villa army outside. It was said that the fighting followed a sortie of Carranza troops from the city.

Further victories in northern Sonora are reported by General P. Elias Calles, in advices to Carranza's officials here. These state that after defeating 1,500 Maytorena troops at Anivacachi the advance was continued, and that the Maytorena troops are now preparing to evacuate Naco.

Messages to Carranza agents report that a Carranza column from San Luis Potosi has succeeded in capturing Dolores Hidalgo, north of General Villa's field headquarters. This would indicate that the Carranza generals are succeeding in carrying out their plans to surround Villa.

An American flag, carried by a Mexican-American ranchman on the American side of the Rio Grande river, at Brownsville, was fired on from the Mexican side by men concealed in the brush.

WHY OHIOAN QUIT MEXICO

Dayton, April 10.—"I was tired of living like a dog and man; treated like a dog," said Howard M. Rinchard, Dayton aviator, on his arrival here, in discussing reasons why he deserted General Villa in Mexico and came back to the states. He does not blame Villa, however. "There is no order there and no system," he declared. "Things go all right when Villa is around, but the rest of the time there is nothing like discipline in the whole country."

GERMANY'S LAST NOTE

Amsterdam, April 10.—A dispatch received here from Berlin says that on April 1, 812,898 prisoners of war were being held in Germany—30,175 officers and 802,633 men. The dispatch gives the prisoners by nationality as follows: French, 3,868 officers and 238,496 men; Russian, 5,140 officers and 504,210 men; Belgian, 647 officers and 39,620 men; British, 520 officers and 20,307 men.

In view of these considerations, the German government then calls attention to the fact that the allies daily are obtaining large shipments of arms and ammunition from dealers in the United States, and declares that the American government, while insisting on its legal right to ship arms to belligerents, does not, with equal energy, pursue its right to ship foodstuffs and nonconcentrable articles to the civilian population of Germany.

GIVES OPINION

Washington, April 10.— Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington will leave in a day or two for Washington state and set in motion the political forces looking to his re-election to the senate. He will enter the Republican primaries of the state, but as a Progressive Republican. Senator Poindexter believes there is a chance to elect a Republican president if a Progressive Republican is nominated. The senator said: "If the old stand-pat element in the party gets control and names a reactionary candidate on a reactionary platform, however, the Republicans will be under a great handicap in the west, where the progressive sentiment is still dominant."

RUSSIANS RUSH UP RESERVES

London, April 10.—According to dispatches from Petrograd, the people of the Russian capital seem convinced that Hungary, if not the whole of the dual monarchy, is ready to seek peace. It is even reported that Emperor Francis Joseph has requested Pope Benedict to intervene in his behalf. Except in Italy, the neutral country most directly interested in this question, little credence is given this report, although the opinion is expressed in military circles here that if Russia succeeds in overcoming the joint resistance of the Austro-German troops in the Carpathians, as she apparently has that of the Austro-Hungarian armies, Hungary at least will be ready to bring the war to an end as far as she is concerned.

However, the Russians have some way to go yet before they reach the plains of Hungary, and the Austro-German forces are placing every obstacle in their way. The whole southern slopes of the mountains have been strongly fortified and troops are being moved into the region in dispute. It is said there are now twenty-four Austrian and six German army corps facing the Russians and that more are on the way. On the other hand, the Russians are still bringing up reserves and, according to the latest Austrian report, they are attacking without any regard for the loss of human life.

Just as fierce a battle, but on a smaller scale, is going on in the west, between the Meuse and the Moselle. There the French are persisting in their offensive against the Germans, and according to the Paris reports continue to make progress. The French report, however, is at direct variance with the reports from Berlin, which announce that all the French attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses.

The French are incessantly bombarding St. Mihiel, the point of the wedge which they are trying to force out, and at the same time are attacking the two sides of the wedge with infantry and artillery in an endeavor to reach the roads which lead from St. Mihiel to Metz. If the progress already made is as great as the French claim it to be, these roads now should be almost within range of the French guns.

The Germans have made an attack on the British lines in northern France, which was repulsed, and have, according to Berlin, recaptured from the Belgians the village of Dreif Grachten, on the Yser river.

French execute brilliant attack

Paris, April 10.—The following official communiqué was issued by the government: "After a new and brilliant attack the important position of Les Eparges, which dominates the plains of the Woëvre, and which had been stubbornly defended by the enemy, has been completely captured by us. We gained more than 1,500 meters of trenches. We took 150 prisoners. We have in this manner achieved one of the main objects of our operations of the last few days. Farther south, in the Ailly wood, we have maintained our entire gain, representing a depth of 200 meters on a front 400 meters long. We also repulsed three counter attacks at this point. In the Mortnaire wood the Germans delivered fifteen attacks in an attempt to recapture trenches, but each assault was repulsed."

They Like Fat Girls in Tunis.

A Tunisian girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scale at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is fifteen years old. She takes medicine and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to fifteen she is very handsome, but at twenty what an immense, unwieldy mass of fat she becomes! She waddles, or rather undulates, along the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. She is clothed in fine silks of resplendent hues of a bright red, yellow or green and wears a sort of conical shaped headdress, from which depends a loose white drapery. Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heels of which barely reach the middle of the feet, complete the costume.

Joy of Obliviousness.

"How did you like my turning off the gas at 10 while you and that young fool were in the parlor last night?" asked her father.

"Did you?" she responded innocently, and father knew the true meaning of the word failure.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Stable Flies Are a Serious Menace

To Man and Beast

UNITED STATES government officials continue to take notice of the activities of the fly, a bulletin recently issued by the department of agriculture stating that during the late summer of 1912 the actual death loss of live stock in northern Texas caused by the stable fly is conservatively estimated at $15,000, while the loss due to reduction in milk supply is estimated at $10,000.

The bulletin is, in part, as follows: "Besides literally worrying cattle, mules and horses to death and killing them by extracting their blood, the deadly fly also transmits disease from one animal to another. A tropical sickness known as surra is undoubtedly transmitted thus. Fortunately this does not occur in the United States at present, but unless great care is exercised in importing stock it may be introduced at any time and the deadly fly given chance to spread it. A related disease of cattle, horses and sheep, known as souma, and a malady of hogs and cats are also carried, at least in part, by the same insect.

"Even man may be inoculated with disease by this pest. Septicaemia (blood poisoning) is considered to be carried by it, and demonstrations of famous physicians have pointed to the possibility of the transmission of infantile paralysis in the same manner. Thus it will be seen that the transmission of a formidable array of diseases is chargeable to the stable fly."

Spanish Surnames.

In addition to three or four Christian names the Spanish child bears the combined family names of his father and mother. When the surnames are doubled or connected by the y, meaning "and," the first is the more important one and the only one that may be taken alone, for it is in the father's name, while the last is in the name of the mother. In Spain they know no "senior" and "junior." Father and son may bear the same Christian name, but each takes his own mother's name as a distinction, the father being, for instance, Pedro Diaz y Castillo and the son Pedro Diaz y Blanco.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

A meeting of the Senior class was held Monday to discuss the class play. A motion was made to reconsider it and was carried. The feasibility of having a play was discussed pro and con, and with no decision reached the class adjourned to meet Tuesday. At Tuesday's meeting two committees were appointed, one to select a suitable play and estimate expenses and receipts, and the other to decide on other means of entertainment. These committees are to make their report Monday.

The annual Senior-Faculty basketball game was played last night, with one of the largest crowds of the season attending. The game resulted in a victory for the Faculty. The Faculty, much elated over its victory, challenged the varsity, but much to chagrin went down to defeat.

Chapel was addressed Friday morning by Mr. Donaldson of Marietta college. He is a good speaker and his talk was enjoyed by the student body.

The pictures ordered from the Braun Art Co., have arrived and are being hung in the various class rooms. The Washington High school is now said to have one of the largest collections of art among High schools in the state. The athletic pictures have been hung on the walls of the stairways.

The first outdoor practice of the track team was held this week at the sales barn. Several more candidates have reported and prospects are reported good by Coach McClung.

Coach Schlachach held the first spring football practice Wednesday. About twenty reported. There is much good material.

BIG CROWD SEES DOUBLE HEADER

FACULTY WINS FROM SENIORS BUT LOSES TO VARSITY IN TWO OF THE FASTEST BASKETBALL GAMES ON THE HIGH SCHOOL FLOOR THIS SEASON — OLD TIMERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING.

All is peaceful again at the High school, now that the controversy over relative basketball prowess has been definitely settled. The decision was the result of two fast games at the High school gym Friday evening, between the Faculty and Senior teams, and the Faculty and Varsity fives.

The argument between the Faculty and the Seniors was settled in favor of the Faculty, after a 22 to 10 mix-up. It having been previously arranged that the victor of this game clash with the Varsity five, the winners, flushed with success, lit into the Varsity with determination but finished sadly at the short end of a 19 to 7 score, acknowledging the Varsity's championship of the school.

The largest crowd of the year saw the game. There were no especial stars in any of the games, all of the players putting up a very creditable exhibition. The lineups were as follows:

Varsity—Hays and Gregg, forwards; Johnson, center; Lloyd and Strevey, guards.

Faculty—Toops and Schlachach, forwards; McClain and Patton, centers; Turner and Hammon, guards.

Seniors—Smith and Duff, forwards; Merrileather, Kearney, Evans, center; Davis and Pugsley, guards.

These games close the season.

OFFICIALS WILL

Governor Must File Charges And Prove Incompetency, Say Some Board Members Coming Under Executive's Dismissal.

GOVERNOR ACCUSED OF VIOLATING SPIRIT OF CIVIL SERVICE LAW

Willis Then Accuses Civil Service Commissioner Bryson of Making False Charges—Harmon Claims Willis Quoted Him "As Devil Quoted Scriptures"—Hogan Retained by Discharged Officials

Columbus, April 10.—Governor Willis will have to prefer charges of incompetency or malfeasance in office against many of the fourteen members of state commissions, whose resignation he requested last night, in order to effect their dismissal. It became evident today, when he announced openly they would resign and would contest his right to remove them. Attorney General Timothy Hogan was retained as counsel and agreed at once to defend the officials against removal.

Reports reached the governor's office that ten Democrats, among who were asked to quit, had agreed to hold a conference next week and decide on a united line of action. This was not confirmed, however, by any official. Most of those affected by Governor Willis' statement said today they had made no decision, and had not discussed the matter with others in the same office.

Governor Willis refused to make further statement today, supplementary to his letter sent out to officials last evening. It was said the governor's office a "reasonable" time for the officials to offer their resignations would be "at least a week and possibly more."

Governor Willis was accused of failing to keep the spirit of the civil service, by requiring the appointment of Republicans wherever available and ordering that provisional appointments be made in too many cases by Charles H. Bryson, civil service commissioner, in a letter sent to Governor April 7. It was public today by Commissioner Bryson as a means of combatting the governor's request for his resignation.

It appears to me that your whole course is in violation of the spirit of the civil service law," Commissioner Bryson.

After Commissioner Bryson's letter was given out, Governor Bryson made public a reply addressed to Mr. Bryson. The governor did not in any way sought directly or indirectly, to interfere in the action of the Civil Service Commission.

It is reported to Mr. Bryson's charge that the spirit of the Civil Service has been violated, the governor cannot believe that you will make such ridiculously false charges to be implied in your letter."

On April 10—the only official to announce definitely to whom would refuse the governor's request for the resignation of H. Bryson, of Athens, a civil service commissioner, Progressive Thomas J. Duffy, of East industrial commission.

HUERTA DUE
IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

New York, April 10.—There was activity in local Mexican colony today, in anticipation of the arrival of General Victorino Huerta, deposed president of Mexico. He sailed from Spain on a steamer due here this afternoon or tonight.

Mexicans here believe that a number of General Huerta's most intimate friends would greet him and confer concerning Mexican affairs.

In a wireless dispatch, replying to inquiry, General Huerta sent word that he was on a pleasure trip only.

CASSIDY IS STILL HIDING

By Associated Press.

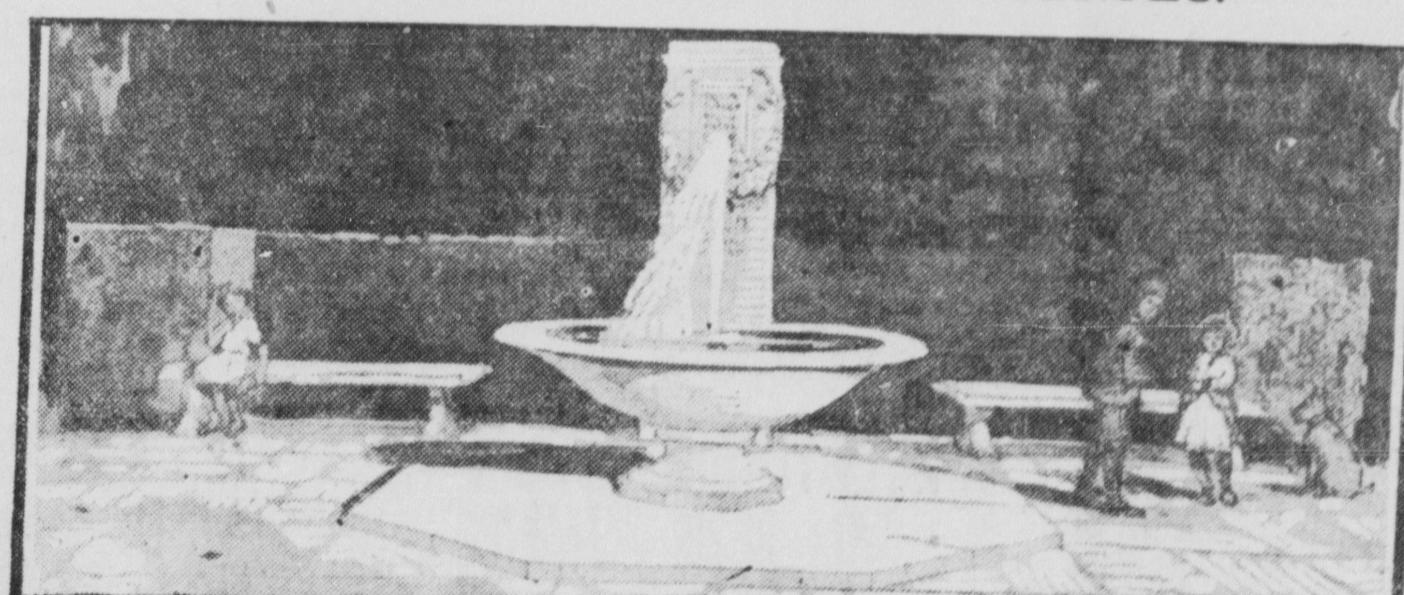

Cleveland, April 10.—The whereabouts of James H. Cassidy, former congressman, missing since Monday, and who was removed as receiver of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Coal Company by Federal Judge Clarke, when he failed to report to the court as instructed, continued to be a mystery today. The apparent shortage in his accounts, according to the newly appointed receiver, is between $16,000 and $20,000.

Meantime, friends of Cassidy assert their belief that he will be able to give a satisfactory explanation of General Huerta's coming here. The purpose of the movement here today, was to initiate a hostile movement along the frontier, in violation of the neutrality law.

AUSTRIA FORCED TO ABANDON SERBIAN CAMPAIGN AND WATCH ITALY'S MOVES

Peace Rumors Continue, Coming From Vienna—Clamor for War Reaches Critical Stage in Italy—26,000 Austrians Fall in One Engagement.

By Associated Press.

London, April 10.—The French, with the capture of Les Eparges, have obtained one of the main objects of their advance to the southeastward from Verdun. The position at Les Eparges dominates the plains of the Woëvre, and its occupation by the French is announced officially.

Progress from Verdun means heavier pressure on the northern flank of the Germans holding St. Mihiel, while the southern flank is threatened by the French advance between Pont A Mousson and the Meuse.

In the southern part of this field of operations the Germans are delivering almost continuous counter attacks. They have made fifteen assaults on one point. It is evident that the French are not only attempting to capture St. Mihiel, which always has been a danger point since its wedge was driven into the line of the allies, but are at the same time seeking to aid Russia by preventing the withdrawal of German corps for the relief of the hard pressed Austrian and German forces in the Carpathians.

London, April 10.—Austria is reported to have abandoned her campaign against Serbia, bringing to a close the offensive operations which were the immediate cause of the general European conflict. Dispatches from Switzerland say that Austria has given up the plan for a new attack on Serbia, for the sake of sending additional troops to the Italian frontier.

It is also reported, from the same source, that the decision has been reached at Vienna to sound Russia as to peace terms. The official organ of the Vatican, however, denies the report that Austria has requested the assistance of the Pope in such negotiations.

Russia is said to have made important captures of guns and war munitions in the Carpathians. What is represented as information from the Austrian General Staff, is that in the battle along the Dukla-Eperies front the Austrians lost 26,000 men.

Popular agitation in Italy, concerning the attitude of that country, has increased to a point which has necessitated energetic action by the authorities to prevent disorders. The factions for and against war have arranged mass meetings for tomorrow, which their leaders say will be held in spite of a police prohibition.

WILD EXCITEMENT ATTENDS
OPENING OF STOCK EXCHANGE

By Associated Press.

New York, April 10.—Scenes of wild excitement attended the renewal of operations on the stock exchange today. The trading floor was crowded with members, and the visitors' gallery was lined with spectators, many of them women, in gay attire.

Over night buying orders and a stampede of the short in-hour was 117,660 shares. Prices recovered from lowest levels, gains extending from one to before the close, but failed to repeat three points in speculative favorites their best quotations of the first and specialties.

Sales for the two hours aggregate 800,000 shares, the largest half a million shares, which surpass total for a Saturday in 6 years.

ed all records since 1909, the year of the great speculative boom. Prices continued to react under the weight of increased realizing sales, and many gains were wiped out, some of the standard shares selling materially under yesterday's close.

Steel was conspicuous in this connection, declining to 55 1/2. Its further stampede of the short in-hour was 117,660 shares.

Sales for the two hours aggregate 800,000 shares, the largest half a million shares, which surpass total for a Saturday in 6 years.

RESIGNATIONS ARE DEMANDED BY GOVERNOR

Columbus, April 10.—Governor Willis sent letters to members of the five leading state commissions, asking for their resignations. All the members of the utilities, industrial, agricultural, civil service and licensing boards are called on without warning to step out.

In asking for these wholesale resignations, Governor Willis points to a similar step taken by former Governor Harmon. He quotes at length Harmon's special message to the legislature immediately after his inauguration in January, 1909, setting forth his reasons for withdrawing the recess appointments, which had been sent to the upper house for confirmation by his predecessor, Governor Harmon.

All of the officials whose resignations are asked were appointed by former Governor Cox, and the commissions on which they are serving were created by the Cox administration. Most of the officials have announced on various occasions that their resignations would be forthcoming at any time the governor wished them.

The only big department not now in control of Willis appointees which escaped his wholesale request is the board of administration, which exercises control over institutions. The reason for its not being included, as explained by the governor's secretary, was that he did not want the charge to be made that he was dragging the state institutions into politics. All members of this board are Cox appointees except D. S. Creamer, Democrat, who was appointed by Willis.

Willis appointees now control the state tax commission. The one remaining Cox appointee, A. B. Peckinpaugh, was not asked to relinquish his job. One other commission has a Willis appointee. He is Utilities Commissioner Beecher W. Waller.

The resignations of the following have been requested: Industrial Commission—Wallace D. Yapple, Thomas J. Duffy, M. B. Hammond. Utilities Commission—Oliver H. Hughes, Charles C. Marshall. Agricultural Commission—A. P. Sandles, S. E. Strode, C. G. Williams. Civil Service Commission—S. A. Hoskins, Charles Bryson, Charles Brown. Liquor Licensing Board—Byron M. Chen Denning, J. H. Secret, Charles L. Allen.

That the governor may reappoint some whose resignations he has asked for is intimated.

What Willis Says.

In his letter Governor Willis said to all those asked to resign:

"On Jan. 12, 1909, Governor Judson Harmon sent to the senate of Ohio a special message, two paragraphs of which are as follows:

"My election as governor plainly meant that the people want a change of administration. This can not be accomplished by changing the chief executive only, but he must be left free with respect to the other officials whose selection is left by law to him. Otherwise he may preside over the administration, but he can not conduct it so as to be responsible for it, as he ought and was meant to be."

The long established order of things in Ohio and elsewhere makes appointments to executive positions in each administration terminate practically with it, as far as possible, so that the new governor in organizing the executive force of the state can make such changes as he thinks advisable, as terms expire, make his own reappointment of officials whose retention the good of the service requires, and thus secure that harmony of purpose and action which are the first requisite for executive efficiency.

The concluding sentence of this important message by Governor Harmon says:

"I ask, for the sake of good government, whose credit and benefits your honorable body will share with me, that you leave me free to choose my own associates in the administration and my successors free to choose theirs."

It would be difficult to improve upon this clear, clean-cut declaration, and I, therefore, very respectfully request its earnest consideration by you.

"So far as I know, my relations with the appointees of my predecessor have been personally pleasant. As governor I have not sought to embarrass any of these appointees in the discharge of their duties. Appointments have been made gradually and carefully, so as not to impede the prompt and proper transaction of the public business.

"However, this administration is now confronted by a situation in which the party in power has only minority representation in a number of important boards and commissions, while in others is without any representation whatever.

"This is an anomalous condition. The people have spoken in decisive terms; their will must be carried into effect. The party in power is charged with responsibility; it is entitled to majority representation on the boards and commissions which are to crystallize the people's will in administration. This is said entirely without personal feeling or partisan rancor; no disparagement is hereby intended of any official. It is of the most vital importance that at least a majority of the various agencies of administration should be in accord with the principles and policies of those charged with responsibility.

"It hammers immensely any captain,

if his lieutenants are not in sympathy with his plans of campaign or if their service in command of hostile troops has been of recent date. Such a situation must be embarrassing even to those lieutenants, however able and courageous they may be. It is unfair to ask them to fight beneath a banner representing principles and policies of which they do not approve. The only thing to be done in such circumstance is to ask them graciously to surrender their command to those in sympathy with the general plan of campaign. Their resignations once in the hands of the commanding officer, those whose services are deemed indispensable can be continued on grounds honorable to all concerned."

MONSTER FRUIT CROP EXPECTED

Confirming the statement of a local fruit grower, made a few days ago, that fruit buds were safe and a big fruit crop is expected this season, Mr. B. B. Vandervort, of Forest Home Fruit Farm, and one of the biggest fruit growers in Greene county, says:

"Prospects for a fruit crop are very bright, at this time, I am glad to say. There is an abundance of good healthy buds that are still so dormant that it will take several days of warm weather to bring them to the danger point."

"There was but little scab on the apple leaves last autumn and the leaves remained on the trees until late in the fall which greatly favored the formation of an abundance of good healthy buds. Even the peach is very promising, and the prospect is for another full crop which is very unusual in this section where we think we are fortunate if we get a crop once in three or five years.

HAWK BOUNTY LAW EFFECTIVE IN JUNE

A communication from Gen. John C. Speaks, Chief Game Warden of the state, relative to the hawk bounty law enacted by the legislature and signed by the governor on March 9, states that the law becomes effective 90 days from the time signed by the governor, and that the Fish and Game Department is now preparing colored photographs of the several species of hawks upon which a price exists and these photographs will be mailed to the township clerks throughout the state in order that the hawks killed may be identified as to species.

It is presumed that hawks killed previous to the date upon which the law becomes effective, will not be regarded as having a price upon their heads.

House-cleaning Times

The return of the house cleaning days remind us that the old fashioned carpet beater is not so much in evidence as he was once upon a time not so long since.

The hard wood floors and small rugs, the vacuum cleaners and other changes in styles, customs and inventions, have deprived a great many expert club and broom wielders of good paying jobs and relieved many good husbands and fathers of burdensome tasks.

The dull pounding of the carpet in the neighbor's back yard, a sound, like which there is no other in all the great universe of sound, was until a year or two ago the unfailing sign that spring had come. Now we must listen for other sounds denoting the coming of spring and look elsewhere for the evidence that it really has come.

The men with mouths of sufficient size to hold a box of carpet tacks without interfering seriously with their ability to converse freely and expectorate dexterously has marched on into other fields of labor.

The maid with her bucket and mop in hand, with the towl artistically bound about her head, the ends trailing back over the shoulders, is still with us as is also the smell of strong soap and fresh paint. There is, too, a little less of the confusion and general upheaval in evidence, but still enough to bring to the home folks a full realization of the fact that its house cleaning time and spring is here. Sometimes mother starts in a little too early on the house cleaning campaign, but not often. In her reckoning as to whether spring has come or not she does not rely on the coming of the birds, the phaze of the moon, the time of the year, but just on her own instinct with which nature has endowed her.

When mother notifies father and the boys that the house is too dirty for decent folks to live in and that she is going to "pitch in" and get it over with before the weather gets too hot father and the boys know, two things to a certainty—One is that spring is here and the other one is that there is no use trying to stop mother.

The passing of the carpet beater has made the signs of the coming of spring a little more difficult to hear but the real house cleaning sign is still in evidence.

Disloyalty Is Fatal

Loyalty is not only one of the most admirable traits of human character but one which it is absolutely necessary to possess in order that success come to man either individually or collectively.

No business can long succeed with disloyalty existing among the partners. No enterprise can succeed with disloyal employees and no employee can do himself justice, no matter how humble or how important his work may be, unless he is loyal to his employers and loyal to his superiors.

Disloyalty is the most despicable of human imperfections and its possession is the greatest handicap which can be placed on an individual. It is the offspring of jealousy and envy.

There are times, of course, when men who regard their honor highly cannot be in sympathy with their superiors. An open and frank expression of disapproval or disagreement under such circumstances does not constitute disloyalty and under such circumstances a dissolution of the confidential relations should follow immediately.

To pretend to be in accord with conduct that is wholly distasteful is deception and disloyalty and soon brings to the guilty person punishment in financial loss.

The man who accepts a share of the profits, as partner, or accepts remuneration for services rendered as an employee, while doing all in his power to injure his business associate or to handicap his employer is piling up a debt which must be paid and always sooner than he expects.

If employees are not in sympathy with their employer—if they are not loyal—they should refuse to receive money from him. If they object to his methods of business they should get outside and object. To take pay for rendering service to an employer whose plans you are opposing is not only disloyal but downright dishonest.

Loyalty, like honesty, is not only right but it is the best policy.

Disloyalty, like dishonesty, is not only wrong, but it is bad policy, always. There are no exceptions.

Poetry For Today

LIFE.

Life! I know not what thou art,
But know that thou and I must part;
And when, or how, or where we
met

I own to me's a secret yet.

But this I know, when thou art
dead,
Where'er they lay these limbs,
this head,

No cloud so valueless shall be,
As all that then remains of me.
O whither, whither dost thou fly,
Where bend unseen they trackless
course?

And in this strange divorce,
Ah, tell me where I must seek this compound!

To the vast ocean of empyreal flame,
From whence thy essence came.
Dost thou thy flight pursue, when
freed

From matter's base encumbering
weed,
Or dust thou, hid from sight,
Wait, like some spellbound
knight,

Thru blank, oblivious years the appointed hour

To break thy trance and reassume
thy power?

Yet canst thou, without thought
or feeling be

O say what art thou, when no more thou'rt thee?

Life we've been long together
Thru pleasant and thru cloudy
weather;

Tis hard to part when friends are
dear,—

Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;
Then steal away, give little warning,

Choose thine own time:

Say not Good Night,—but in
some brighter clime
Bid me Good morning.

—Anna Letitia Barbauld.

Educate the Public To Swat the Fly

TUBERCULAR and infant mortality statistics have amazing and encouraging facts to offer that prove it pays to educate the public and that any community that wishes to be prosperous must be healthy. It has also given courage to the medical and allied sanitary professions to plan a crusade that must face opposition from commercial enterprise. ### The Paper They Were Written On.

The average author would probably laugh at the statement that at one time in the world's history manuscripts, simply as such, irrespective of the nature of the text, were immensely valuable. In ancient times manuscripts were important articles from a commercial point of view. They were excessively scarce and were preserved with the utmost care. Even the usurers were glad to lend money on them when the owners were obliged to offer them in pawn. It is related in an ancient tome that a student of Pavia, who was reduced by his debaucheries, raised a new fortune by leaving in pawn a manuscript of a body of law, and a grammarian who was ruined by a fire rebuilt his house with two small volumes of Cicero through the ready aid of the pawnbroker.

DESPONDENT MAN USES RAZOR TO END HIS LIFE

ISAAC VANDINE SEEKS LONELY SPOT IN WOODS NEAR SELDEN AND THERE SLASHES THROAT WITH RAZOR AND REMAINS ARE FOUND LATE THIS MORNING — HAD TRIED SUICIDE IN SIMILAR MANNER 10 YEARS AGO.

Sprawled upon the ground in a pool of blood which had poured from a horrible wound in his throat, searchers late Saturday morning found the remains of Isaac Vandine, single, aged 52 years. The man had used a razor in severing the jugular vein in order that his life blood might escape.

For sometime Vandine had been employed as a farm hand, making his home with Luther Greer, a cousin, who resides on the Chas. Mark farm west of Selden, on the Sabina pike.

The man had not been in good health for quite a while, and had been brooding over his illness, it is claimed. Shortly after midnight Friday night he was heard to leave the Greer home, and Saturday morning a note was found in which the man hinted that he was about to end his life, and asked that he be forgiven for the act which he was about to commit.

With the help of neighbors Mr. Greer instituted a search, finding where Vandine had climbed a fence, crossed a lot, a wheat field, the railroad tracks and into piece of timber on the Beatty farm some three quarters of a mile from the Greer home.

It was in the woods that the searchers came upon the sickening sight. Indications were that the man had seated himself upon the earth; had drawn a 22-calibre revolver and probably held it in one hand while he slashed his throat with the razor.

Three times the keen blade had been drawn across the right side of the man's throat until the jugular vein was completely severed, and death quickly followed. He lay in a pool of blood, with his work clothes saturated with the red fluid. The bloody razor lay nearby.

After the remains were viewed by Coroner C. A. Teeters they were removed to the McCoy undertaking establishment in this city and prepared for burial. Coroner Teeters will return a verdict of suicide.

It was not the first time Vandine had tried to end his life. Across the windpipe were scars inflicted some ten years ago when he tried to cut his throat with a razor. At that time he was living near Milledgeville and the attempt was a complete failure owing to the manner in which he had tried to reach a vital spot.

The dead man has a few relatives in the county, it is understood, and has spent most of his life upon the farm.

APPROPRIATE ARBOR DAY PROGRAMS IN THE SCHOOLS

Arbor Day was generally observed in the Public Schools of our city Friday.

At the High school building there were brief exercises in the morning and in the afternoon Central, Cherry Hill, Sunny Side and East End entertained hundreds of visitors with appropriate Arbor Day programs.

At Central and East End trees were planted and shrubbery put out at Sunny Side.

Double Program.

The four lower grades of Central, under Misses Anna Bell, Clara Haines, Hattie Pinkerton and Prudence Culhan, gave one of the most attractive entertainments of the year, combining the monthly birthday celebration with Arbor Day features.

Anticipating the busy closing season the birthdays of April, May and June, July and August, were bunches for Friday and an even hundred children, born in these months, were honored guests. All the little "birthdayites" were distinguished by white caps, sporting Easter colors, yellow, violet and green.

The 230 children of the four rooms all wore white and it was the prettiest of sights to see them in greeting to the "birthdayites" and marching down the corridor. The children march beautifully.

The various exercises were admirably given, combined happily the birthday idea with the Arbor Day features.

Of special importance was the christening of the new street now being opened between North street and Millwood.

The President of council and the Mayor of the city had given the privilege of naming this street to Miss Bell and her first grade pupils, consequently, at the close of a pretty exercise, treating of the color, the flowers, the trees of the Easter month, one small child stepped forward to announce this permission given by the city.

A dear little girl with a basket of flowers, performed the christening ceremony, naming the street Arbor

A suit for the recovery of some $452 with interest on various sums from one to a dozen years, was launched in common pleas court, Friday afternoon, by Anna Wissler, who makes her brother, Jesse Wissler, of Paint township, defendant in the action.

In all the petition cites ten causes for recovery of various sums, the first being for the sum of $140 with interest at six per cent from April 16th, 1903. This cause is based upon a promissory note.

The second cause states that on January 17, 1899, the defendant borrowed $300 from Peter Staub, gave a note due in two years, to bear interest at six per cent, and the plaintiff signed the note as security only.

The defendant failing to pay note at maturity, she paid $24 interest for the first two years, and subsequently paid the interest until January 17, 1915, each time of paying interest being mentioned as a cause of action and she asks the amount of interest paid together with the interest on the interest from the time she paid the various amounts which are given as $72 in January 1906; $48 in January 1908; $48 in January 1909; $24 in January 1911; $24 in January 1912; $24 in January 1913; $24 in January 1914; $24 in January 1915.

EXECUTING PLANS TO GET VILLA

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—According to Carranza claims, the defeat of the Villa army at Celaya by General Obregon was a rout. Details were given in a message from General Obregon himself. Villa officials, while in direct touch with their chief at Irapuato, have allowed twenty-four hours to elapse without denying the Carranza claim of victory. Obregon sends brief additional reports declaring that Villa had retreated north of Irapuato with eighteen troop trains, five of which were carrying wounded. If this report of a Villa retreat is true, Villa's forces at Guadalajara are evidently completely isolated. Obregon has 500 of Villa's men prisoners and they report their chief demoralized. Villa personally ordered the retreat. Obregon says.

General Obregon says: "The battle lasted for twenty-seven hours, when the Villistas began to retreat. Prisoners claim that General Villa was one of the first to retreat. We pursued the enemy for over thirty miles over a battlefield covered with dead and wounded. We captured a great deal of arms, ammunition, horses, supplies and prisoners. Losses of the enemy in killed, wounded and prisoners is over 3,000. Our losses are 500 in dead and wounded. We suffered greatly in the loss of many prominent officers."

Private messages from Brownsville, Tex., stated that skirmishing was resumed between the Carranza troops in Matamoros and the Villa army outside. It was said that the fighting followed a sortie of Carranza troops from the city.

Further victories in northern Sonora are reported by General P. Elias Calles, in advices to Carranza's officials here. These state that after defeating 1,500 Maytorena troops at Anivaca, the advance was continued, and that the Maytorena troops are now preparing to evacuate Naco.

Messages to Carranza agents report that Carranza's column from San Luis Potosi has succeeded in capturing Dolores Hidalgo, north of General Villa's field headquarters. This would indicate that the Carranza generals are succeeding in carrying out their plans to surround Villa.

An American flag, carried by a Mexican-American ranchman on the American side of the Rio Grande river, at Brownsville, was fired on from the Mexican side by men concealed in the brush.

GOTHAM DIVINE FACES CHARGES

New York, April 10.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst of the Madison Square Presbyterian church is to be presented for trial next Monday. The case against him has been passed by the moderator's council of the New York presbytery and it will be heard by that body. A few days ago a copy of a letter written by him and addressed to persons in California was received in this city and will be put into the evidence. The charge is conduct unbecoming a Christian minister.

In a recent California political campaign, in which liquor interests played a live part, a letter was published by the saloon leaders of the state, purporting to have been signed by Dr. Parkhurst. This letter the New York presbytery now has. It refuses to make the contents public until it is presented in the presbytery. It is said that it takes the view that prohibition does not always prohibit, and it is believed that it advocates a fight on whisky and champagne, if a fight must be made at all, and when that is won to the extent of being supported by public opinion, to attack beer and wines. It is charged in California that the Parkhurst letter turned the scales against the temperance people.

WHY OHIOAN QUIT MEXICO

Dayton, April 10.—"I was tired of living like a dog and bear; treated like a dog," said Howard M. Rinchard, Dayton aviator, on his arrival here, in discussing reasons why he deserted General Villa in Mexico and came back to the states. He does not blame Villa, however. "There is no order there and no system," he declared. "Things go all right when Villa is around, but the rest of the time there is nothing like discipline in the whole country."

WOULD RAISE REALTY TAX

Columbus, April 10.—Representative Thompson of Franklin introduced in the house a bill which provides that all but 15 per cent of the cost of street lighting and of garbage and refuse collection shall be assessed against the property holders. Cost of these services is now defrayed by taxes on both personal and real property. The proposed transfer will put the cost on real property. The purpose of the bill is to increase the city revenue available for other purposes.

The farmers had their way with the conference committee on the Smith-Mallow agricultural decentralizing bill, and rather than have the bill defeated, the senate and house had to accept the conferees' elimination of the provision requiring that compensation by the state for slaughter of diseased cattle and swine should not be greater than the value returned by the owner for taxation.

Senator Lloyd introduced as a separate bill the provision for taking options on land abutting the state fair grounds.

Governor Willys has come to the relief of the Whittacre bill for state regulation of private employment agencies, which was killed by the house. Senator Archer, at the governor's request, will introduce the bill in the senate Monday.

The Bohm measure, empowering the Wooster state agricultural experiment station trustees to buy cheap land, preferably forested, plant trees on it and control it as state forests, was reported favorably. If the project were extensively carried out, it is said it would have a material effect in preventing spring floods.

KAISER'S PRISONERS EXCEED 800,000

Amsterdam, April 10.—A dispatch received here from Berlin says that on April 1, 812,808 prisoners of war were being held in Germany—10,175 officers and 802,633 men. The dispatch gives the prisoners by nationality as follows: French, 3,868 officers and 238,496 men; Russian, 5,140 officers and 504,210 men; Belgian, 647 officers and 39,620 men; British, 520 officers and 20,307 men.

GERMANY'S LAST NOTE

Washington, April 10.—Germany has sent to the United States government a note complaining that the latter has accomplished nothing in its diplomatic correspondence with the allies to obtain for American exporters the right to ship foodstuffs to the civilian population of a belligerent country. The communication intimates also that the United States has virtually acquiesced in the British order in council prohibiting commerce with Germany.

In view of these considerations, the German government then calls attention to the fact that the allies daily are obtaining large shipments of arms and ammunition from dealers in the United States, and declares that the American government, while insisting on its legal right to ship arms to belligerents, does not, with equal energy, pursue its right to ship foodstuffs and noncontraband articles to the civilian population of Germany.

POINDEXTER GIVES OPINION

Washington, April 10.— Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington will leave in a day or two for Washington state and set in motion the political forces looking to his re-election to the Senate. He will enter the Republican primaries of the state, but as a Progressive Republican. Senator Poindexter believes there is a chance to elect a Republican president if a Progressive Republican is nominated. The senator said: "If the old stand-pat element in the party gets control and names a reactionary candidate on a reactionary platform, however, the Republicans will be under a great handicap in the west, where the progressive sentiment is still dominant."

Idlers.

As for those who are not obliged to labor, by the condition in which they are born, they are more miserable than the rest of mankind unless they indulge themselves in that voluntary labor which goes by the name of exercise—Joseph Addison.

VIOLENT IS ADVANCE IN THE MARKET

New York, April 10.—A renewal of speculative buying by the public on a larger scale than has been seen in years caused another violent advance in the stock market. The rise was made on a huge turnover of stocks. Dealings reached 1,250,000 shares. This is the first time that business has passed the million-share mark, with the exception of the two days preceding the close last July, since 1912.

It was a day of wild excitement in the markets. The Bethlehem steel episode of Thursday, sensational as it was, was almost forgotten in the broad, comprehensive upward sweep of prices. The rate at which stocks changed hands, especially in the final dealings, when something like panic of the shorts ensued, was tremendous. Thousand share lots seemed to be the rule rather than the exception. Some lots of 4,000 and 5,000 shares changed hands. Everyone seemed to be buying with both hands almost regardless of price. There was every evidence that it was a public market. The general comment in the street was that the public was in the saddle, the stock market had its bull boots on, and Wall street had at last come back.

Steel common, the leader, made an extreme gain of 7½ points on turnover of a little less than 250,000 shares. A straightforward rise of that kind in steel is practically unprecedented. The fact that there are 5,000,600 shares of this stock outstanding testifies to the strength of the upward impulse. Amalgamated Copper, Canadian Pacific, Reading, Erie, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and other leaders made gains of from 2 to 5½ points.

RUSSIANS RUSH UP RESERVES

London, April 10.—According to dispatches from Petrograd, the people of the Russian capital seem convinced that Hungary, if not the whole of the dual monarchy, is ready to seek peace. It is even reported that Emperor Francis Joseph has requested Pope Benedict to intervene in his behalf. Except in Italy, the neutral country most directly interested in this question, little credence is given this report, although the opinion is expressed in military circles here that if Russia succeeds in overcoming the joint resistance of the Austro-German troops in the Carpathians, as she apparently has that of the Austro-Hungarian armies, Hungary at least will be ready to bring the war to an end as far as she is concerned.

However, the Russians have some way to go yet before they reach the plains of Hungary, and the Austro-German forces are placing every obstacle in their way. The whole southern slopes of the mountains have been strongly fortified and troops are being poured into the region in dispute. It is said there are now twenty-four Austrian and six German army corps facing the Russians and that more are on the way. On the other hand, the Russians are still bringing up reserves and, according to the latest Austrian report, they are attacking without any regard for the loss of human life.

Just as fierce a battle, but on a smaller scale, is going on in the west, between the Meuse and the Moselle. There the French are persisting in their offensive against the Germans, and according to the Paris reports continue to make progress. The French report, however, is at direct variance with the reports from Berlin, which announce that all the French attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses.

The French are incessantly bombarding St. Mihiel, the point of the wedge which they are trying to force out, and at the same time are attacking the two sides of the wedge with infantry and artillery in an endeavor to reach the roads which lead from St. Mihiel to Metz. If the progress already made is as great as the French claim it to be, these roads now should be almost within range of the French guns.

The Germans have made an attack on the British lines in northern France, which was repulsed, and have, according to Berlin, recaptured from the Belgians the village of Drei Grachten, on the Yser river.

FRENCH EXECUTE BRILLIANT ATTACK

Paris, April 10.—The following official communiqué was issued by the government: "After a new and brilliant attack the important position of Les Eparges, which dominates the plains of the Woëvre, and which had been stubbornly defended by the enemy, has been completely captured by us. We gained more than 1,500 meters of trenches. We took 150 prisoners. We have in this manner achieved one of the main objects of our operations of the last few days. Farther south, in the Ailly wood, we have maintained our entire gain, representing a depth of 200 meters or a front 400 meters long. We also repulsed three counter attacks at this point. In the Mortmare wood the Germans delivered fifteen attacks in an attempt to recapture trenches, but each assault was repulsed."

They Like Fat Girls In Tunis.

A Tunisian girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scale at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is fifteen years old. She takes medicine and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to fifteen she is very handsome, but at twenty what an immense, unwieldy mass of fat she becomes! She waddles, or, rather, undulates, along the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. She is clothed in fine silks of resplendent hues of a bright red, yellow or green and wears a sort of conical shaped headdress, from which depends a loose white drapery. Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heels of which barely reach the middle of the feet, complete the costume.

Joy of Obliviousness.

"How did you like my turning off the gas at 10 while you and that young fool were in the parlor last night?" asked her father.

"Did you?" she responded innocently, and father knew the true meaning of the word failure.—Philadelphia Ledger.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

A meeting of the Senior class was held Monday to discuss the class play. A motion was made to reconsider it and was carried. The feasibility of having a play was discussed pro and con, and with no decision reached the class adjourned to meet Tuesday. At Tuesday's meeting two committees were appointed, one to select a suitable play and estimate expenses and receipts and the other to decide on other means of entertainment. These committees are to make their report Monday.

The annual Senior-Faculty basketball game was played last night, with one of the largest crowds of the season attending. The game resulted in a victory for the Faculty. The Faculty, much elated over its victory, challenged the varsity, but much to chagrin went down to defeat.

Chapel was addressed Friday morning by Mr. Donaldson of Marietta college. He is a good speaker and his talk was enjoyed by the student body.

The pictures ordered from the Braun Art Co., have arrived and are being hung in the various class rooms. The Washington High school is now said to have one of the largest collections of art among High schools in the state. The athletic pictures have been hung on the walls of the stairways.

The first outdoor practice of the track team was held this week at the sales barn. Several more candidates have reported and prospects are reported good by Coach McClung.

Coach Schlabach held the first spring football practice Wednesday. About twenty reported. There is much good material.

BIG CROWD SEES DOUBLE HEADER

FACULTY WINS FROM SENIORS BUT LOSES TO VARSITY IN TWO OF THE FASTEST BASKETBALL GAMES ON THE HIGH SCHOOL FLOOR THIS SEASON — OLD TIMERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING.

All is peaceful again at the High school, now that the controversy over relative basketball prowess has been definitely settled. The decision was the result of two fast games at the High school gym Friday evening, between the Faculty and Senior teams, and the Faculty and Varsity fives.

The argument between the Faculty and the Seniors was settled in favor of the Faculty, after a 22 to 10 mix-up. It having been previously arranged that the victor of this game clash with the Varsity five, the winners, flushed with success, lit into the Varsity with determination but finished sadly at the short end of a 19 to 7 score, acknowledging the Varsity's championship of the school.

The largest crowd of the year saw the game. There were no especial stars in any of the games, all of the players putting up a very creditable exhibition. The lineups were as follows:

Varsity—Hays and Gregg, forwards; Johnson, center; Lloyd and Streyve, guards.

Faculty—Toops and Schlabach, forwards; McClain and Patton, centers; Turner and Hammon, guards.

Seniors—Smith and Duff, forwards; Merriweather, Kearney, Evans, centers; Davis and Pugsley, guards.

These games close the season.
